

WA Portal: A Space to Innovate and Collaborate

The Healthier Washington Collaboration Portal (WA Portal) is a knowledge sharing platform managed by the state Department of Health to support partners in their work to improve health and wellness in our state.

WA Portal was built by Washington health care providers, educators, public health and community-based professionals to improve the health care delivery system. Since its launch, WA Portal has evolved to meet the needs of the broader health and wellness community.

Today WA Portal:

- Is a dynamic platform with user-centric tools.
- Offers a space for health and wellness partners to share innovative approaches and communicate about emergent and ongoing health issues.
- Supports engagement and resource sharing between organizations through a protected collaborative space.

WA Portal Features

Collaborative space

The site offers an easily accessible but password-protected space to collaborate within a workgroup. You can store a searchable collection of files, folders, and calendar. This space includes a discussion board for members to share updates, thoughts, and questions.

Custom web pages

Share information about your work with professional peers on a webpage you produce and manage. WA Portal Partner pages are a space for you to showcase an initiative or share guidance. Your pages can include embedded videos, a calendar, links to resources and more.

Resource library

Use filters or a search tool to find science-supported materials, such as clinical practice tools, health topic information, or instructional videos. Contribute to the library to ensure accessibility for health and wellness professionals statewide.

Note: WA Portal is intended to support health and wellness peers, not for promotion to the general public.

Contact the Collaboration Portal team at wportal@doh.wa.gov for questions or to get started collaborating.
