

The best way to know your risk for colorectal cancer? Get screened.

If you're 45 or older, it's time to start. Colonoscopies aren't your only option—there are other ways to screen, including tests you can do yourself.

Colorectal cancer screenings help catch it early, when it's easier to treat.