

WA Portal: A Space to Innovate and Collaborate

The Healthier Washington Collaboration Portal (WA Portal) is a knowledge sharing online platform managed by the state Department of Health to support partners in their work to address health and wellness in Washington State.

The WA Portal was built by Washington health care providers, educators, public health and community-based professionals to provide a seamless environment for work related to transforming the health care delivery system.

Since its launch, WA Portal has evolved to meet the needs of the broader health and wellness community in Washington.

Today WA Portal:

- Is a dynamic platform with user-centric tools.

- Is a space for health and wellness partners to share innovative approaches and communicate in the moment about emergent health issues.
- Supports engagement and resource sharing between multiple organizations through a central collaborative space.

WA Portal Features

Customized web pages

Share information about your work with professional peers on your own webpage. WA Portal Partner pages are a space for you to showcase a multi-partner initiative or share guidance. Your pages can include embedded videos, a calendar, links to resources and more. Note: Content on WA Portal is for peers, not for the public.

Collaborative space

Use My Portal, a password-protected space to collaborate within your organization or with partners statewide. Here you can store a searchable collection of files, folders, and messages. This space includes a discussion board to allow team participants to share updates, thoughts, and questions.

Resource library

Explore the resource library, a place to broadly provide resources such as clinical practice tools, health topic information, or instructional videos. Your contributions to the library ensure accessibility for health and wellness professionals statewide.

Browse the Population Health Guide to find methods for improving or addressing a health issue in any community. This guide, supported by Department of Health subject matter experts, explains how to turn plans into action.

Locate health and wellness services in Washington State using the resource map. The interactive tool allows you to search regionally for potential health and wellness partners.
